REMOVE POLITICAL SIGNS
Granite City police Thursday confiscated Democratic political signs for several candidates from utility poles at Penton and Johnson Roads. Chief of Police Ronald J. Vassilliou said the signs that sign on public property and utility poles violate a city ordinance, and that persons caught placing them can be arrested and fined.

3-3 deadlock adds to woes

A controversy over the layoffs of an additional 17 employees of the Metro-East Sanitary District has had the majority of members of the district board move into a 3 to 3 split between Madison and St. Clair County board members.

The split developed in a special meeting of the board at 7 p.m. Sunday, called by the Madison County board members to refute action by the three St. Clair County trustees who met in a special meeting Friday morning and voted 3 to 0 to rescind action laying off the 17 employees.

At the same time, board members revealed that an injunction previously issued to require the district from laying off any employees who are "needed to fulfill the district's statutory obligation of flood control," was served in St. Louis on Friday afternoon. A hearing on the injunction is scheduled at 10:30 a.m. Tuesday in the court of

Circuit Judge Joseph Cunningham in Belleville. Action in which the district board voted 4 to 2 to lay off 17 more employees, most of them seasonal workers in the district's Washington Park office, was taken last Tuesday after Russell Robinson of Granite City, Walter "Shang" Grosshousen of Granite City and Edward R. Johnson of Madison County members of the board, spearheaded the layoff move because they said

HOUSE NUMBERING visibility is a current goal of emergency staffs. A reader residing at the above address notes the problem in seeing many home numbers and gives a solution — use of an outdated auto license plate on a lamp post or other location near the sidewalk. The reader comments, "There are many houses plates here which are also house numbers. These could be helpful at the time of an emergency, if placed where they can be easily seen."

Storm-related death

William H. Kincaid, 61, Rural Route Two, Box 963, died at 8:20 a.m. Friday in St. Francis Hospital in Linden after apparently suffering a heart attack during a snow storm, according to a spokesman of the Illinois State Police.

At 8:18 a.m. Friday, Mr. Kincaid, a truck driver for the Stably Cartage Company in Illinois, had stopped at a truck weight station on Interstate 55 about three miles north of Linden.

Mr. Kincaid was cleaning ice off his truck when he suffered the attack.

Illinois State Trooper Larry Elvers immediately started resuscitation, but medical transportation and confinement to the hospital until they arrived at the hospital.

On and off the record Percy pothole repair plan

Sen. Charles H. Percy (R-III) has urged swift Senate action on a bill that would provide $1 million to Illinois to repair potholes caused by the harsh winter.

"States have been hard-pressed to meet the demand to meet the overwhelming demand to repair highways and mass transit systems that have been affected by the severe winter conditions," Percy said. "Action to remedy this is urgent now."

The bill, the Emergency and Transportation Repair Act of 1978 (S. 2557), would earmark $250 million in federal funds for pothole repairs nationwide. The money would come from the Highway Trust Fund.

States could apply for 100 percent of the cost of repairing weather damage to highways and surface roads of urban mass transit systems, other than railroads.

Weather outlook

Increasing cloudiness and warmer today with chance of rain by dark. High the low 40s. Occasional rain likely tonight, changing briefly to snow. High the low 30s. Low tonight in the low 30s. High Tuesday in mid to upper 30s. Warning trend Wednesday through Friday with no precipitation expected. Lows in the 20s and highs in the low 40s during the period.

The Highway Trust Fund, provided by excise taxes on motor fuel and automotive products, is the source of the money. The bill would add to the trust for both Interstate and primary secondary-urban road programs.

It is to be proposed for road repairs and mass transit surface roads is under consideration by the Senate Environment and Public Works Committee. It has been passed by the House.

to work feverishly, sometimes taking turns at the stamping machines when rush orders piled up.

William F. especially spent long hours at the factory, engrossed in details of production or absorbed in plans to capture new markets.

His nervous system finally splintered. When he became tired, he was put to bed.

The doctor said it was a clear case of too much time. He advised William to forget that pots and pans existed to make plans and to cultivate new interests.

Thus, when William regained his strength he went overseas to Europe.

The young manufacturer visited the chief capitals,

Mon., March 6, 1978 Page 6

talked at fashionable watering places and viewed the museums and cathedrals listed in guide books.

Then, perhaps because it reminded him on the rivers at a steamboat plying the Rhine.

One morning the steamer moved into a village where cargo was offloaded and the men went ashore to stretch their legs.

As he sauntered down the main street, idly glancing at shop windows, his attention was drawn to a display of kitchen utensils in the show room of a small factory.

Unlike any William had ever seen, these pots and pans were covered with a glaze substance that glowed in the sunlight.

He hurried in and examined the ware. It felt as smooth as frozen satin.

Excited, he called for the proprietor and introduced, himself. Could the proprietor tell him how these vessels were manufactured? Yes, Mr. Proprietor could, and would — for $5,000.

William returned to the steamer, packed his luggage ashore. He spent the next several weeks in the factory, learning what ingredients went into the enamel and how it was applied to sheet iron.

Then, armed with notes he headed for the nearest port.

Back in America, he patented the enamel process and with Frederick G. began producing Granite Ware, so named because the material in the enamel.

Between batches, granite ware utensils found their satisfactory and told their neighbors. Sales of the St. Louis Stamping Co. doubled and tripled.

Sheet iron used in making granite were had to be imported from Wales. The brothers always purchased an extra year's supply, a policy rewarded in 1877 when the Welsh mill burned to the ground.

In 1878, the Niedringhaus built the Granite Iron Rolling Mill at Second and Deshler Streets, St. Louis.

To obtain sheet iron comparable to the foreign product, they imported skilled Welsh workmen among whom were William George, John Harvey, John Howell, John Jenkins, David John, John John, David Meredith, Robert Price, Ed Richards, Bert Thomas, Thomas Thomas, Frank Watkins and John Webb.

The company formed in 1878, Granite Iron Rolling Mill eventually became Granite City.

It was destined to remain in Missouri until the founding of Granite City during the 1880s.

In 1880, the Republican party advocated high tariffs to protect infant industries.

Frederick G. particularly favored the Tariff in October 1880.

The country as a whole endorsed the Tariff, fearing it would cause exorbitant rates in the cost of living.

Many protectionist Congressmen, including William McKinley, were instrumental in the passage of the Tariff of November 1880.

In the following year, McKinley was the governor of Ohio. As campaign secretary, he distributed leaflets in the St. Louis Stamping Co., the first American firm to produce tin-plated com mercially.

In 1881, Governor McKinley dedicated the huge Leeds Steel Rolling Mill at Elwood, Ind., first big tin-plated mill in the country.

Four years later, McKinley was elected President of the United States.

Anticipating a huge increase in business, the Niedringhaus brothers made plans to enlarge production capacity of their mills.

Two courses were open.

They could build addition to the plants in St. Louis, or they could buy a larger and more appropriate cheap land near St. Louis, develop a city there and receive their investment through resultant revenue in real estate values.

The brothers proved most attractive and they began to look about for a suitable site.

As told by George W. Niedringhaus, (1860-1950), son of William F.

The chosen site selection was some 106 miles north of St. Louis in a district known then and still known as the Spanish Bend. The Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad had graded a road of way through this land; the road would be built within a year.

However, on approaching the president of the railroad, the master was told that the construction of the road was indefinite.

It was then decided to expand property adjoining the Niedringhaus property.

Sufficient property was bought with the exception of a small piece of ground that was necessary to round out the tract, but was held by people owning it as an investment figure.

Then, too, a blind street ran through our property. And while the street was not a public street, it was public property it precluded using it for building purposes.

"Efforts were made to have this street located, for which the Missouri legislature of 1881 paid a good price.

Opposition developed in the council, which finally resulted in our giving up all thought of building in north St. Louis and we began looking for a new location.

The Merchants' Terminal Railroad was under construction about this time and the Merchants' Bridge was to be the main connection. We were subscribers to this terminal company, believing this service necessary for the development of St. Louis.

On April 1, 1881 (the first of April 1881) it was decided to take a trip to the east side of the Mississippi River, following the new terminal right-of-way.

We crossed on the North Market Street Ferry, drove over the old Alton Road, crossing the C. & A. and other tracks at a small station at that time called Kehler, where Niedringhaus Avenue now crosses these tracks.

The country was a very prosperous community at that time and the farms all seemed to be kept in such excellent condition.

"We drove to a point, probably about one-half mile from the property line, to a four foot in diameter which was at that time on the property now owned by the West Metal Company. We spent some time in looking over the property, and I said, 'Well, I could make my father's remark that this would make a ideal site for the city such as we contemplated.'

"We a newspaper, try to get the name of the town Niedringhaus met Mark Hennion, Kinderhook school teacher, whom they employed as their land agent. "Hennion is a good man, I like him," we said. "Let's have him look at this tract, which included the highest land in the area, the Niedringhaus purchased it."

"The river rose to 36 feet that year, flooding lowlands at Kinder station and other sections of the American bottoms, but this, if the expression may be used, did not threat cold weather."

"In the spring of 1882 they hired the city engineer of St. Louis to lay out the city.

The plot was laid at Edward 1882.

The town site occupied a slight elevation on what had been the corn field of William E. Bissell, who had his division line set in 100 feet west.

"Longitudinal streets as rended northeast and southwest in gridiron fashion, except Niedringhaus Avenue, a broad diagonal thoroughfare which ran east and west.

"Niedringhaus Avenue had the added distinction of being the only street with a formal name in the history of the founders or leaders of the alphabets."

"A round plot at the intersection of Twentieth Street and Niedringhaus Avenue

Payments to employees of the Police Department amounted to $17,238 in sick leave last year, up from $10,138, and $6,126 in injuries on duty, a total of $23,364.

The report shows that sick leave paid to employees last year totalled $12,432, an increase from $8,981 during 1975.

Payments for time off due to injuries amounted to $3,982 last

Improved health proposals, intense immunization drive

Local-level health departments will receive a 25 percent increase in funding under Governor James R. Thompson's 1978-79 fiscal year public health appropriation of $81.1 million.

Thompson explained to legislators last week that $3.8 million in general revenue funds to local health agencies would be supplemented by additional funds reimbursable under Title V.

The governor also said there will be improved access to health services for citizens in rural, medically-disadvantaged counties, and proposed a new program to study illnesses resulting from environmental factors, and increases in grants and scholarships awarded under the Health Professions Act.

The department has received a rural health initiative grant designed to assist local agencies in developing primary care services in areas where a shortage of health manpower is evident.

He said, "The widely publicized PBB and PCP incidents are examples of human exposure to hazardous substances."

"Under a new program, the resulting environmental study will be conducted by a panel of scientists to insure that information concerning the effects that pesticides, fertilizers, industrial chemicals, food additives and other substances have on health is monitored through a health agency."

"During 1978-79, more than $425,000 will be used for grants to family practice residencies, primary care clinics and special clinics who agree to practice in areas of the state where there are shortages of medical personnel."

"This represents an increase of 25 percent over the 1977-78 expenditures."

A JOYFUL MADISON COACH LARRY GRAHAM . . . BEFORE THE GAME

TROJAN KENNY STANLEY SHOOTS OVER RAYMOND MACK AND JEFF LEE

History repeats itself

VANDALIA — It's over. The season is over for Madison's basketball Trojans.

They started out this season as the defending Illinois State Class A (750 enrollment or less) basketball champions. They still are champions — but only until next Saturday night when a new cage king will be crowned in the Assembly Hall at the University of Illinois in Champaign.

Then results, the Trojans fell 72-70 in overtime Friday night to Lebanon, a team which has provided Madison with some of its most "memorable" and "important" games through the years.

In fact, both teams together have provided Illinois fans one of its most exciting games in post season tournament play the past three years.

Two years ago, Madison coach Larry Graham thought he had his most talented team ever. Many of the Trojans would merits all the way to the Assembly Hall and claim the championship trophy which was rightfully theirs.

But Lebanon's Greyhounds had other ideas. The two teams met in the Vandalia Sectional finals, and Lebanon walked off by the upstairs from McKendree-town.

Last season, Lebanon went into the Sectional finals against Madison ranked as the number one team in the state and sporting an undefeated record. They weren't undefeated after the game.

THE WHOLE STORY

Madison withstood a furious charge by the 'Hounds and came off with a highly-contested 72-70 decision. But not until after Lebanon had taken the issue to the Illinois High School Association and to the courts, but with little success.

Going into Friday's game, Madison was considered by many to be the team to beat as far as grabbing a second state crown was concerned. But the Greyhounds put on a show of shooting and the Trojans put on a show of poor shooting and the result was a close game.

The Trojans only hit 37 percent of their field goal attempts — if they'd have made 40 percent, they would have won.

But they didn't. They did manage to force Lebanon into an overtime, but it just wasn't to be. Greyhound Robert Mog sank four straight free throws in the closing minute of the overtime period to give the Greyhounds the victory.

There were tears — on both sides. The Lebanon fans were crying tears of happiness at making the "Sweet Sixteen." The Madison fans were mourning the end of a season which saw them win two invitational tournaments (Illini and Illinois), a regional title and finish with a 24-4 record.

They weren't mourning all of those accomplishments, they were mourning the fact that it was all over and that the trophy they brought home to Madison from Vandalia Friday was silver instead of gold.

TWO DISHEARTENED MADISON CHEERLEADERS MOURN THE FALL OF THEIR HEROES

Nameoki studies revenue sharing project budget

Nameoki Township officials are studying 15 possible uses for its revenue sharing during the fiscal year, as they began work on the township's budget, the Nameoki Town Board of Trustees was told Monday night.

Montgomery Hessler, chairman of the board's finance committee, said among the topics under consideration are establishing a fund pool from which unused bills and service fees by Granite City ambulances can be paid, and increasing the appropriation to Coordinated Youth Services so it can expand its services to the township through the Pontoon Beach Nameoki Township area office.

Frank Mehelic, township highway commissioner and Democratic precinct committeeman for Arlington Heights, suggested consideration be given for the proposed tornado warning system and was assured the project is in the works.

State Sen. Harold Davis said there is a question whether revenue sharing funds can be used for such a project, since Civil Defense funds are already involved.

Hessler assured Mehelic the project "is on our list."

Trustee Lee Adams said the application for approval of revenue sharing for the $10,000 project is now being drafted in Washington, D. C., after receiving state approval. He said Ted Todoroff, county Civil Defense director, has said he "feels sure" it will be approved in Washington.

The township will have to pay the entire cost of installing the system and Civil Defense will then reimburse half. The system will be activated by the Pontoon Beach police fire encoder system, and it may be possible for the township to grant the funds to the Long Lake Fire Protection District, Adams said. The district will then contract for actual construction and installation of the warning system.

The Coordinated Youth Services request for $7,800 has "jumped" substantially from the $1,000 requested in the past fiscal year, Hessler noted, and said he would inquire into the cause.

Donald Patrick, director of the Pontoon Beach CYS office, explained his office intends to expand services to all areas of the township by adding a Manpower employee to the staff.

The increase in the office budget is due partially to supporting services for the Manpower employees and partially to receiving grant funds under the CYS program which call for reduced grant support and increased local support each year.

The first fiscal year, beginning Sept. 1, will be the final year for a grant from the Illinois Law Enforcement Commission for CYS. That grant will provide $9,500 this year for the Pontoon Beach office.

Patrick said the office is seeking $7,900 from Nameoki Township, $8,600 from Pontoon Beach and $1,000 from the Pontoon Beach Lions Club, which still leaves the office $3,000 short of its proposed $30,000 budget. Other sources of income are being explored, he said.

Hessler also said the budget may consider establishing a pool for ambulance service, unless another source to provide the service can be found.

Davis said he has written Nelson Hagnauer, chairman of the Marion County Board, to determine if the county has taken any action on a demand by Venuce to provide ambulance service. Venuce and Nameoki Township are citing a state law which the law makes the county responsible for providing ambulance service to areas where such services are not available.

Adams said he feels ambulance service should be provided by the fire department, but noted the maximum tax to support such a service would be insufficient to pay for such a service.

Use of the Long Lake Fire Department to provide ambulance service would still leave portions of the township unprotected, since East Madison, Cleverleaf Addition and Eagle Park are among township subdivisions which began work on the township's budget, the Nameoki Town Board of Trustees was told Monday night.

Montgomery Hessler,

chairman of the board's finance committee, said among the topics under consideration are establishing a fund pool from which unused bills and service fees by Granite City ambulances can be paid, and increasing the appropriation to Coordinated Youth Services so it can expand its services to the township through the Pontoon Beach Nameoki Township area office.

Frank Mehelic, township highway commissioner and Democratic precinct committeeman for Arlington Heights, suggested consideration be given for the proposed tornado warning system and was assured the project is in the works.

State Sen. Harold Davis said there is a question whether revenue sharing funds can be used for such a project, since Civil Defense funds are already involved.

Hessler assured Mehelic the project "is on our list."

Trustee Lee Adams said the application for approval of revenue sharing for the $10,000 project is now being drafted in Washington, D. C., after receiving state approval. He said Ted Todoroff, county Civil Defense director, has said he "feels sure" it will be approved in Washington.

The township will have to pay the entire cost of installing the system and Civil Defense will then reimburse half. The system will be activated by the Pontoon Beach police fire encoder system, and it may be possible for the township to grant the funds to the Long Lake Fire Protection District, Adams said. The district will then contract for actual construction and installation of the warning system.

The Coordinated Youth Services request for $7,800 has "jumped" substantially from the $1,000 requested in the past fiscal year, Hessler noted, and said he would inquire into the cause.

Donald Patrick, director of the Pontoon Beach CYS office, explained his office intends to expand services to all areas of the township by adding a Manpower employee to the staff.

The increase in the office budget is due partially to supporting services for the Manpower employees and partially to receiving grant funds under the CYS program which call for reduced grant support and increased local support each year.

The first fiscal year, beginning Sept. 1, will be the final year for a grant from the Illinois Law Enforcement Commission for CYS. That grant will provide $9,500 this year for the Pontoon Beach office.

Patrick said the office is seeking $7,900 from Nameoki Township, $8,600 from Pontoon Beach and $1,000 from the Pontoon Beach Lions Club, which still leaves the office $3,000 short of its proposed $30,000 budget. Other sources of income are being explored, he said.

Hessler also said the budget may consider establishing a pool for ambulance service, unless another source to provide the service can be found.

Davis said he has written Nelson Hagnauer, chairman of the Marion County Board, to determine if the county has taken any action on a demand by Venuce to provide ambulance service. Job creation called key to prosperity for Illinois

Governor James R. Thompson said last week that job creation is the key to a brighter future for all Illinoisans, adding that he is "proud" of the good state has done.

In 1977, a record 3,700 new jobs and an estimated $765 million in new capital investment were the result of work done by the Illinois Department of Business and Economic Development, Thompson said.

The governor said the state's efforts to attract placement nearly 12 months ending last Sept. 30.

The number of youths and minorities placed in jobs more than doubled.

The fiscal year '78 July 1978 June 1979 budget will give the way for thousands of jobs and an improved economy, Thompson predicted. "We've made every effort to include the new budget, which are being prepared.

Construction of Interstate 290, the Collinsville-Kane County bypass, will create 1,000 new jobs, and another 4,000 jobs in the Illinois economy over several years.

Major repair and reconstruction projects throughout the state, which is expected to create about 33,300 jobs in construction as well as 40,000 associated jobs.

Local school construction bond programs are creating over 4,400 jobs in FY '78, 2,000 of the jobs specifically resulting from state spending.

Construction of the Illinois Young Adult Conservation Corps, will hire 1,000 youths for seasonal work in outdoor recreation.

In FY '79, the Governor's Office of Manpower and Human Development (GOMHD) plan to fund 4,800 jobs through public service employment programs Year-round and summer youth programs will serve 6,000 youth.

GOMHD placement of 400 people in the Skill Training Improvement Program.

Programs to place minor citizens in unemployment jobs and community service work.

Illinois participation in foreign trade shows and missions expected to generate 1,300 new jobs.

One hundred investigators and auditors to be hired, and nearly $2 million earmarked for the Illinois Job Service.

The FY '79 goal for the State's Job Service division of the Bureau of Employment Security — placing 170,000 people.

The state plans to actively pursue the possibility of timely payment of unemployment insurance benefits which will bring Illinois closer to the nation.

In FY '78, the state's eligibility review program is to be expanded to continue to crack down on ineligible.

Approximately 20 percent of those currently being paid unemployment compensation are shown to be entirely ineligible.

Under the expanded eligibility review program, the other 80 percent will be closely scrutinized to determine if they are eligible.

This program is estimated to save about $10 million per year.

Ernest Roulard was elected president of Travelers Abroad at its meeting last week at Prairie Junior High School.

Also serving on the club are Mrs. Edna Lynn, vice president in charge of arrangements, Mrs. Helen Krumm, secretary, Mrs. Gladys Pape, treasurer, and Edmund Fries, program chairman.

Mrs. Mary Evangelist was admitted as a new member.

Guests of the club were Mrs. Thelma Murphy and Walter Chappell.

The program was presented by Alice Purdin, who last year was awarded the degree of doctor of philosophy at Florida State University at Tallahassee.

Dr. Purdin gave an account of her years of trial, strain and adventure in the production of her doctor's dissertation, "India's Cultural Roots: A humanistic approach employing audio-visual learning units."

The presentation of her study received much favorable comment from Americans and many citizens and villagers in India.

One phase of her thesis was Indian music, which is altogether different from western music, chiefly due to the variety of life existing for India.

In Calcutta, Madras, Bangalore and Agra, which Miss Purdin visited, there are thousands of miserable people who are born, live, work and die in the most abject, miserable filth, she said.

The poverty and suffering of the people in the world is illustrated by the idea that all human beings now alive have been born in a different status and will live again.

Those who are watershed people are rewarded for the sins they committed in a previous existence, Dr. Purdin explained. Likewise if they live a better life today, they will be born in better status in their next incarnation.

Further evidence of Hinduism in the present time is a sacred animal which is treated with great reverence in the cities where it is worshipped.

There is no tradition of great leaders, such as Jesus or Mohammed, no creed, no set of beliefs which will bind us to one deity which is exclusively worshipped.

Dr. Purdin said there is no such thing as a Hindu people, the speaker said.

These laws, innumerable creeds and customs about strictly eating whatever food they can find. When they finally succeed, these laws are used for their own benefit and the benefit of others. To further them the law is unthinkable.

The vendor who is horrified by the filth in the streets is astonished by the fastidious cleanliness of the other citizens in the preparation of food and in bathing.

It seems to be an eternal fight against pollution. To fight such contamination or wearing the same clothes in the home that one wears in the street are considered pollution of the home, says Dr. Purdin.

At Bangalore, every morning one can see thousands of natives engaged in primitive bathing.

The River Ganges with its 26 tributaries is the greatest river in the world. The ganges, the descending stairs from the sidewalk to the river, create take places every day.

The funeral ceremony must be separate by the deceased's wife, male relatives and only male relatives attend the ceremony. The roles of the deceased are then assigned.

Dr. Purdin also showed pictures of mountain temples, snake charmers, and the disciples of Yoga, who strive with all their might to keep the body in perfect condition.

Dr. Purdin visited the Taj Mahal, the mausoleum where Shah Jahan built for his wife, Mumtaz Mahal, in the 17th century, and which is considered the most beautiful architecture in the world.

It is a dream in marble which justifies the saying that "the Moghuls created like dreams but left like footprints," the speaker said.

The funeral ceremony must be separate by the deceased's wife, male relatives and only male relatives attend the ceremony. The roles of the deceased are then assigned.

During the evening both evangelists and Bill Fox of Lakewood Baptist Church, Fairview Heights, will be at 7 p.m. according to the pastor the Rev. Jack Fritts.

There will also be a competition to form a Madison County Baptist Association.

Dr. Purdin, who is the director of the choir, will be the conductor under the direction of Robert Fritts. Rehearsal dates for the choir will be from 2

Girl Scouts to start 66th anniversary week

Girl Scout Sanders scheduled for March 12 will be the official observance to open week-long activities marking the 66th anniversary of the Girl Scout movement in the United States.

Scouts will mark the start of the anniversary week for these million Girl Scouts across the country, celebrating the event by attending church in their uniforms with other church members, or at their own places of worship.

Girl Scouts of the U.S.A. founded in 1912, by the nature of its program through the years, has encouraged girls to do active deeds rather than observe.

Today's Girl Scouts have much more opportunity to broaden their scope of interests. They're into arts, crafts, computers, cooking, etc., as well as to a heightened awareness of women's roles in a changing society, according to Mrs. Jane Vialand, president of the River Girls' Girl Scout Council.

The new handbook, "World to Explorer," is designed with activities for even the youngest girls to help expand their understanding of the world around them, the world of people, the world of natural resources, the world of arts, the world of sciences. They are doing new things to help girls realize the importance of contemporary life, the council president added.

Through projects that relate to such vital issues as energy, the environment, and computers, Girl Scouts get a perspective of the global nature of things. Other activities give them a chance to examine the potentialities of women, the importance of world peace, the importance of exercising, etc., she said.

Not to be overlooked, of course, is a whole world of fun, including the annual campout and a competition with Girl Scouts, Mrs. Vialand said.

Various programs have been planned in the Quad-City area by members of the council and individual troop leaders in conjunction with the anniversary week.

Mrs. Myra Purcell of Granite City serves as district chairman. Other members of the council leading the troop programs in the area include Mrs. Judy Donaldson, Madison; Mrs. Linda and James Smith, Linda Poldner, Linda; and Mrs. Charles Smith.

Other events planned this month will be the International Dinner, held each year for troop leaders, to be on March 20 at St. John United Church of Christ, 2000 Washington St., with Andrea Oliver serving as chairman.

Friends of Girl Scouting activities will take place March 22 and continue through March 25.

Public and part of Sanitary District board lack confidence in the district administration's spending and effectiveness

Many Quad-Citians hoped for the best when the former East Side Levee and Sanitary District was replaced by the Metro-East Sanitary District, even though the changes seemed largely cosmetic and lacked substantive reform.

Omitted was separation along the county line, which would have created two community-centered agencies directly answerable to taxpayers.

Instead, a fundamental abuse has continued into an eighth decade, with decision-making controlled by St. Clair County politicians, and a growing portion of the cost paid by the affected Madison County territory — the Quad-Cities.

The transition from East to Metro-altered the way in which board members are chosen: rather than being elected, they are appointed by the respective County Board chairman.

Enriched was the provision that three-fifths of the board was to represent the biggest of the two territories, based on the assessed valuation of taxable property. A St. Clair area judge's ruling — currently being appealed — is keeping a third St. Clair member of the board in office, and a 4-2 vote — and little has been done to negotiate a primary-secondary sewage treatment cost acceptable — and affordable — to Madison and Venice residents.

Developments last night add to the increasing lack of confidence in the district's top employee, Wendell Headon. A 3-3 deadlock has emerged, and it has been indicated that, during the impasse, staffing may continue beyond the current 18-month term.

While emergency conditions occasionally might justify borrowing of future taxes, this is complicated by the dispute over board control.

And while springtime thawing and flooding may necessitate utilization of extra workers, the clear impression among Quad-Citians on the board is that payroll funds have been wasted or spent inappropriately, during the time preceding the traditional spring problem period.

Dissatisfaction with what has been occurring seems justified. The courts ought to act quickly to place control within the Quad-City area, which is footing the bill of the bill and has indicated a desire to operate the system efficiently and economically.

County ought to pay sheriff's extra taxes related to rent

Not everyone has been satisfied by the performance of the Madison County sheriff department, including a number of deputies who have talked to federal grand juries in recent months.

But it would be wrong if the department's image problem — whether justified or unjustified — affects the decision on whether the Madison County government pays the cost of a tax claim made against Sheriff John Maeras on funds with which the county rented his Edwardsville home.

The county traditionally housed the sheriff's family within the jail, on the theory that he could more easily supervise administrator of the district.

Unfortunately, as disclosed in Press-Record reports, there have been spending patterns ignoring financial reality until the board called a halt last week in a 4-2 vote — and little has been done to negotiate a primary-secondary sewage treatment cost acceptable — and affordable — to Madison and Venice residents.

Memorial holiday confusion ahead

To the Editor: Day mixup reported.

Once again, our family structure will be born asunder as the federal holiday is scheduled for Monday, May 29, while Illinois recognizes Tuesday, May 30.

It would be wrong if the department's image problem — whether justified or unjustified — affects the decision on whether the Madison County government pays the cost of a tax claim made against Sheriff John Maeras on funds with which the county rented his Edwardsville home.

The county traditionally housed the sheriff's family within the jail, on the theory that he could more easily supervise activity there and could more quickly respond to law enforcement problems around the county.

Due to the tightening space squeeze within the courthouse and jail offices, Sheriff Maeras agreed to reside instead in an apartment, after county legal authorities indicated no tax problem would result. They were wrong, and the sheriff now owes several thousand dollars on the bill of the bill in rent during the 1978.

It is a legal way to be found to do it. The county clearly owes John Maeras the extra amount being sought from him by the Internal Revenue Service.

Memorial Day a Monday

The vast majority of manufacturing, retail, service and banking facilities will honor Monday, May 29, but schools will go along with the state on Tuesday, May 30.

Congress saw fit to return Veterans Day to Nov. 11, but shows no signs of waiving on its Memorial Day as a Monday.

Can the Illinois General Assembly be persuaded to go on this one for an even trade?

Dairy Queen ups hamburger sizes

Samuel J. Temperio, president of Dairy Queen, has announced an all-new hamburger program.

Temperio said, "The new size hamburgers have been created to satisfy the desire to eat as much as possible."

Madison County sheriff's deputies were told that a color television set, a jewelry box containing a woman's diamond ring and a garter were found inside a dog and containing about $300 in change were missing.

In cooperation with International Dairy Queen, Inc., the Dairy Queen Food Stores in this metropolitan area, southeast Missouri, southern Illinois and surrounding areas were chosen as test markets for the new "Addaburger" concept.

It is alleged, Mr. Temperio's was educated at West Pointe Pointe and Whittle's was westbound when Whittle's failed to see the oncoming auto and turned left.

Mrs. Whittle's was taken by Granite City ambulances to St. Elizabeth Hospital and was transferred to Jewish Hospital, St. Louis.

Whittle's was taken to the Granite City jail and was released at 3 p.m. Sunday after posting $155 cash bond.

Law, order events here on May 15-17

Each year for the past eight years, Granite City Elks Lodge 1063 has designated one week in May as Law and Order Week.

Highlights of the week are the annual law and order dinner and a free supper dinner for all officers in the Quad-City area and from the Madison County sheriff's department.

Earl E. Davis, chairman of the Elks Law and Order Committee, has announced that the week of May 15 will be Law and Order Week in the Quad-Cities in 1978.

The seventh law and order banquet will be held on Monday evening, May 21, at Charlie's Restaurant, 3320 Nameoki Road, Granite City.

On the following Wednesday evening, May 17, a free supper dinner will be served at officers from Granite City, Madison, Venice, Pontiac Beach and the Madison County Sheriff's Department at the Elks Lodge here.

Charlie Ross, Vester, Don Bridich, Ralph D. Braswell, Roswell Bennett Jr. and Sheriff John Maras will be in charge of food preparation for that evening.

Last year, in lieu of presenting awards to the individual police departments, the Granite City Elks made a contribution to the Sherwood Youth Camp, an operation supported by the Elks Lodge.

This gesture received such favorable response that a similar contribution is planned for this year.

Local businesses will receive tickets for the banquet through the Elks Lodge.

Other persons wishing to attend the banquet or in some other way express their appreciation to these local law enforcement departments may do so by calling the Elks Lodge at 878-8880.

Free home-painting program

The Nameoki Town Board Monday night informed those in the audience that low-income families in the area will be able March 17 to apply to have their homes painted free under a program offered by the county.

A combined program sponsored by the Madison County Housing Authority, the county free, the Office of manpower Development, and the Cahokia Painters' District Council 58 is being offered with groups of volunteers to go into low-income neighborhoods and paint the houses free of charge.

Nameoki Supervisor Harold Davis said persons qualifying for the program should meet with him at the office of the county free, the Office of manpower Development, and the Cahokia Painters' District Council 58 is being offered with groups of volunteers to go into low-income neighborhoods and paint the houses free of charge.

Trustee Lee Adams said the volunteers will come to the houses going into the areas and working on several homes until all are done, then moving on to another area.

Maximum income level to qualify for the program is determined by the size of the family.

A family of one may earn up to $3,718 a year to qualify; two members up to $4,812; three members $8,13; four members $12,518; five members $18,513; and families with six members may earn up to $8,713 per year.

In Memoriam 33

In Loving Memory of CLARENCE A. FICKER March 6, 1971 Sadly missed by Wife, Daughters and Sons 33 3 6

In Loving Memory of THOMAS WATKINS March 6, 1971 Your gentle face and patient smile.

With sadness we recall You had a kindly work for each and died beloved by all.

These are mute and true, The heart we all share.

Oh, bitter was the trial to part From those we love as you.

You are not forgotten, loved one Nor will you ever be.

As long as life and memory last We will remember thee.

We miss you now, our hearts are sore.

As time goes by we miss you more.

Your loving smile, your gentle face, No one can fill your vacant place.

Sadly missed by -
